National Saltwater Angler Registry

Register 2010

Starting January 1, 2010, a new federal law will require most Rhode Island saltwater recreational fishermen to sign up with the National Saltwater Angler Registry. Registration is quick, easy and FREE in 2010.

Why Register?

Registration is the law, and it helps NOAA and anglers work together to gather better data on angling catch that will help us to ensure the future of saltwater fishing.
